Like, Totally Tubular!

By Lisa Forsythe, Editor

- "Gnarly, dude!"
- "Gag Me With a Spoon!"
- "Grody to the Max"

If you ever used any of these phrases, or at least heard your friends say them, odds are you're a child of the 80's.

The decade that spawned these phrases gave rise to iconic characters such as Indiana Jones, Alex P. Keaton and Cliff Huxtable, to name a few. Michael Jackson changed history with the debut of his "Thriller" video, selling 600,000 copies in five days after the video debut. MTV was born in the 80's, putting a face with the voice of upcoming stars like Madonna and Boy George and making them superstars practically overnight. Hair bands like Metallica and Poison were touring before sell-out crowds, and Prince was singing about purple rain and crying doves.

Ronald Reagan was fighting the Cold War, and managed to bring down the Berlin Wall. Diana married Charles while the world watched, and Steve Jobs began building computers in his parents' garage.

The Challenger Space Shuttle exploded, killing all on board, and some three months later the worst nuclear accident in history occurred at Chernobyl.

At MCHS, the 80s was the decade of Bobcat basketball, most notably the reign of Neal "Sky" Walker. Scoring 2,518 points in his career, BEFORE the installation of the 3-point line, Walker's record will never be topped.

On Friday, August 24 MCHS will host Tishomingo County at 7:00. Alumni from the 80's are invited to attend the birthday party from 5:00 - 6:30*. We will have cake and ice cream, and all the best 80's hits. Alumni can purchase 50th birthday party tshirts for $20 ($23 for 3x and 4x), and register for the alumni database. All 80's graduates present will be recognized at half-time. Join us at the party canopy next to the ticket gate, and party on, dude! In case of rain, the event will be moved to the Commons.
