The 90's. The decade of Power Rangers, Ninja Turtles, Beanie Babies and Furbies. The world wide web was born. Bill Clinton was president, Charles and Diana split, and we sent soldiers to places like Kuwait and Iraq. The first Harry Potter book was published, "Dolly" was cloned, and Napster downloads created an uproar in the music industry.

Michael Jordan ruled on the basketball floor, and the Dream Team took the gold. Seinfeld, Mulder and Scully, and the 'babes' of Baywatch ruled on tv, while MTV introduced the first "reality" show with The Real World, followed quickly by Survivor.

On the Hill, the football team entered the decade with an undefeated season, and went to the state playoffs 7 of the 10 years. Both boys and girls basketball teams won championship trophies regularly, including the night of the triple OT game with Chester County where both teams scored over 100 points apiece.

The 90's also saw the dismantling of planetarium equipment that could no longer be replaced or fixed. The room became a storage space and practice room for the wrestling and cheerleading squads.

On Friday, August 31 MCHS will host Covington at 7:00. Alumni from the 90's are invited to attend the birthday party from 5:00 - 6:30*. We will have cake and ice cream, and all the best 90's hits. Alumni can purchase 50th birthday party tshirts for $20 ($23 for 3x and 4x), and register for the alumni database. All 90's graduates present will be recognized at half time. Join us at the party canopy next to the ticket gate. In case of rain, the event will be moved to the Commons.
